

KIWASCO Leads Tree-Planting Drive Ahead of World Rivers Day

Water doesn't originate from our taps—it comes from vital catchment areas that sustain river flow and reinforce the need to protect our waterways.

In preparation for this year's World Rivers Day, we planted 4,000 trees at Kajulu Forest, the upstream section of River Kibos, as part of our ongoing commitment to safeguarding this critical catchment area.

This initiative was carried out in partnership with the Kenya Red Cross Society, the City of Kisumu, and the Kajulu community.
